

IMAGINATION

Here are five ways to fuel your imagination.

1.

OBSERVE EVERYTHING.

Look around you and begin by creating fun stories about everyday things and situations. Say you spot an apple tree outside your window. Form a story about the things the apple tree might have seen!

2.

INDULGE YOUR CURIOUS TICK.

Find out how things work and why they work that way. See if you can form a connect between different patterns. Ask as many questions to as many people about as many things as you can. And fill in the gaps with your imagination!

3.

READ.

Stories are one of the best tools to spark your imagination. Read a lot of fiction and fantasy novels that transport you into imaginary worlds or situations.

SPEND TIME WITH CREATIVE PEOPLE.

Know any relatives or friends pursuing creative careers? Reach out to them and talk to them about their jobs. Ask them how they tackle challenges at work or even how they solve real-life problems.

EXPLORE DIFFERENT CREATIVE INTERESTS.

Don't just pick one creative field and limit yourself to it. Try your hand at as many creative hobbies as you can. Take up painting, enroll for a drama class, attend a poetry-reading session, watch movies, learn a musical instrument, whip up a meal - anything that holds your interest!
